

Container baskets and racks trial

A new way to collect eligible drink containers in public places

What are container baskets and racks?

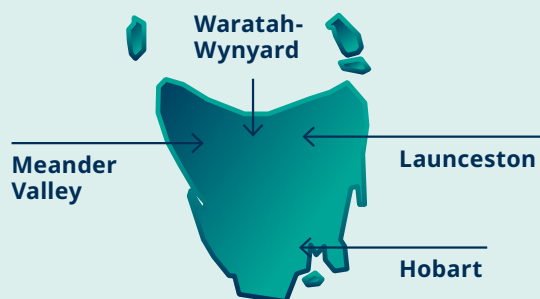

Container baskets and racks are purpose-built for use in public spaces so you can leave eligible drink containers for others to collect and return to a refund point for a 10 cent refund.

Recycling drink containers:

- Cuts litter in streets, parks and waterways
- Reduces waste to landfill
- Helps build Australia's circular economy

Where can I find them?

Recycle Rewards container baskets and racks are being trialled in the following Tasmanian councils:

Why is branding important?

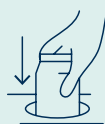

The Recycle Rewards brand is already very well known across Tasmania. Consistent use of the Recycle Rewards brand helps minimise contamination, communicate what's eligible and encourage the public to leave their eligible drink containers for others to collect.

Please contact us James.Palfrey@tasrecycle.com.au so that we can provide you with the branding assets you need.

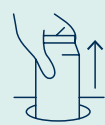

How are they used?

Drink it: Enjoy your drink

Leave it: Place only eligible drink containers in container baskets or racks you see in public spaces

Collect it: Anyone can collect containers and return them to a Recycle Rewards refund point to claim the 10 cent refund

This system lets everyone participate in recycling and supports community members and groups who regularly collect containers to raise important funds.

Why should councils install them?

Having visible, easy-to-use container baskets and racks in parks, town centres and other public places helps keep eligible drink containers out of landfill and diverts them into the circular economy.

Leaving containers for others to collect also creates shared benefits:

- People who wish to get refunds can easily access containers without searching through general waste bins
- Local volunteer collectors, community groups and fundraisers have more opportunities to gather containers for their causes or income
- Everyone contributes to keeping public spaces cleaner and greener

How can I get involved?

Councils are encouraged to get in touch with TasRecycle at James.Palfrey@tasrecycle.com.au to trial container baskets and racks.
